THE ELECTION

The vote in Appomattox was up to the expectation of the party managers and those engaged in getting the people out to vote. The unofficial returns show 800 votes cast as follows: Swanson maj. 774; Tucker maj. 776; against Constitutional Convention 735 maj Tucker also carries Cumberland county, the home of his opponent, Martin.

There is rejoicing in the Democratic camp over the return of those districts which wandered away from the fold of Democracy in 1920 under false prophets and false hopes. The Ninth, Siemps district is back in the fold by a majority exceeding 2,000, and now it will be Congressman Peery instead of Siemp or Hasenger. In the Seventh; Paul loses to Judge Harrison by nearly 6,000 maj. The Judge will hardly have a contest on hand when the next congress meets.

The Congress is still in doubt, but the Democrats may yet be able to organize it. The Senate will remain Republican for two more years, when a triumphant Democracy will sweep away the remaining false prophets. Chairman Byrd is the subject of hearty congratulations in his work of landing a solid Democratic Virginia delegation in Congress.

My letter is dated from Maysville, N. C., but for a week I am located at Belgrade, on the Atlantic Coast line, and on the border of Onslow and Jones counties. A sleepy slow, but thrifty little place where the farmers around have built their houses near each other and are social and neighborly, near here is the scene where Syrus Jones was killed by four negroes and the trial which was in progress at Jacksonville last week has been the talk of the place.

Cotton is being ginned here and marketed and great crops of potatoes are being harvested.

The hogs are being fattened on peanuts, the hogs are turned in on the peanut fields and then taken out before they are butchered and fed on corn to harden the meat and the lard.

There are two large tobacco warehouses at Maysville and the tobacco crops which have been sold seem to have brought very good prices except the very low grades, which are hardly worth hauling.

I met Mrs. Dr. Bell at Maysville, who was a Miss Gilliam, of Prince Edward county, Va., and she was glad to meet a fellow Virginian.

There are a great many negroes down here and some of them are of the kind that do not get on with Southern people they have their societies organized and they set the prices that must be paid them for labor and the white people have to pay these prices or not get the work done.

The candidates for the legislature here are making their canvass this week. I hope to get back to Virginia in time to vote and to send the election news to this paper. Quite a number of Virginians live in this part of the State.

Mrs. John Coston, who before her marriage was Miss Roy Rogers and her sister, Miss Minnie Rogers, live near here and Miss Eliza Haskins and sister, Mrs. Eubank, live at Belgrade.

Cotton planters are some of them intending to cut cotton out next year, as the boll weavel is so bad they say cotton doesn't pay, although it is up now to 23 cents a pound for the best.

Every man is required to fence in his stock here now and the hogs got dreadfully poor before the peanut crop came in but they are now on the peanut fields and are improving.

I got oysters here as fine as I ever saw at $2 a gallon. Fish are plentiful and cheap and furnish a good part of the food that the natives eat.

Game is abundant including deer, and bears are occasionally found here.

The Buckingham County and School Fair was held here the past week and was a success. Some new features were here this time including the aeroplane and our people made ascentions in this machine paying at the rate of $1 a minute for the trip. This flying machine proved a drawing card and people came for miles to see it work.

This morning the tobacco market opens at Dillwyn by the Independent warehouse people and tomorrow the 7 in the Association warehouse opens. While your correspondent was in North Carolina I found much the same conditions prevailing as are here Indipendent and Association warehouses running in opposition to each other and each being well patronized. Small farmers here are afraid they cannot wait for the amounts that will not be paid on their crops.

The county school board and also the board of supervisors meet here to day.

The opening of the mines and other works that pays has taken off so many hands that labor is scarce and hands are demanding $1 50 a day when they board themselves.

There will be a sale of the personal property on the old Mason place by Mrs. Butler in the near future.

The Merrywood property owned by Mr. H. D. Puryear will be offered for sale here on Saturday of this week.

The wood land belonging to the old Strickler place has been sold to a man named Finney.

Mrs. Groseclose continues too unwell to teach and Miss Evelyn Garnett is teaching in her place.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry have been staying with Mrs George W. Eldridge at "Roiffton".

Mr. T. B. Hall will begin work at Dillwyn with the tobacco association this week.

A Democratic victory at the polls is looked for on Tuesday.

Halloween Masquerade at Rocks

Miss Nellie Inge gave a "Tacky Halloween" party at her home Tuesday night, October 31st. Nearly all of the young people as well as some old ones were dressed "tacky". The party opened by inviting all the guests who had arrived into a room lighted only by Jack'O'lanterns, the walls of the room were hidden by white sheets tacked on them and on the sheets were tacked black cats, owls and witches, cornstalks and red leaves were also scattered around in the room.

After all the guests present were seated they were asked not to speak and the fun commenced. They were all sitting around some on the floor (ladies too) some perched on a table, organ stool and chairs and every little while some one would be bound to tell something to his or her next neighbor and then everyone would have to laugh, then all would quiet down and some of the old folks would come in and look at the "tackies" and they said "Oh those people are dumb I believe."

As the new guests would arrive, the ones in the room would not speak a word to them, then after all the guests had arrived, they were surprised to see two ghosts coming slowly in. They walked around a while, then one commenced a story and the other would chant it after her, they then slowly left the room

Next the guests were all lined up and made to march around a table with a great kettle of water sitting in the center, into this water Mrs. Inge dumped little parcels which contained fortunes, each guest grabed a fortune from the water as they marched, Miss Nellie Inge then read them aloud. Messrs. Kirk Paulett D. R. Inge and D. W Dinkins acted as judges for "tackest" person and Mrs Eggie Hamilton won ladies prize and Billie Garver won mens prize. All played games until about 10:30 then the guests began to leave excepting a few. The games played were wink, clap in clap out, fish and others. Those dressed tacky were: Nellie Inge, Robert Roach, Zalia Inge, ghosts: Otis Ranson, Jessie Richardson, Billie Harvey, Annie Cawthorn, Louie Cawthorn, Lelia Harvey, Charlie Ranson, Mary Ranson, Rosa Cawthorn, Cornelius Cawthorn, Rufus Cawthorn, D W. Dinkins, Pattie Almond, Clarence Huffman, Ethel Anderson and Will Garrett.

The Deciding Factor

Your selection of a bank is naturally influenced by its reputation for safety and conservatism, by the standing which it enjoys in the community.

But, when these qualifications are met, the courteous and friendly helpfulness of its service becomes the deciding factor.

In The Farmers National Bank of Appomattox you find recognized safety and conservatism in policy and practice—and you also find that atmosphere of cordial welcome, and that satisfying personal attention which make your contact with the bank most truly satisfying.

THE LONG ARM OF THE NATION

The strength of every nation is measured by its sea power. In war the navy is the deciding factor. In peace it is the most powerful insurance against future war. Little-known facts of intense interest concerning our navy are told in one of the series of stories about Our Government which we are sending out each month.
